About VAMMHA

The Virginia Manufactured and Modular Housing Association (VAMMHA), was established in 1965 as the Virginia Trailer Association to represent the then “mobile home” industry in Virginia. VAMMHA’s founders, a group of people that included Al Underwood, Ted Usry and Glenn Teasley, realized that by joining together, the industry would be able to speak with a stronger and more effective voice than any individual retailer, community owner or manufacturer.

Since 1965, VAMMHA has become a leading advocate in Virginia on issues that affect housing in general and the factory-built housing industry in particular. Those issues range from building codes to state and local issues like building codes, zoning, taxation and transportation to federal issues like the HUD Manufactured Housing Program, the Manufactured Home Construction and Safety Standards, the SAFE Act and the Dodd-Frank Act.

VAMMHA members share a common business interest in factory-built housing. Its primary purpose is to promote its members’ common business interest in factory-built housing, and its primary activities are directed to improving the business conditions of its members.
